Rumor versus fact

(AN EDITORIAL)

Paddock Publications wonders if the writers of the poison pen letters that are being received by one or two of the principals in the so-called hazing case, are getting any satisfaction out of those anonymous letters, several of which have come to the attention of the editor. If they are harboring such ideas they are certainly broadcasting them to others. Those rumors grow as they circulate and become a mountain of falsehoods which cover up the few grains of real fact.

Paddock Publications believes in meeting situations squarely. It does not countenance the circulation of mere rumors. It is time that the atmosphere around Arlington youth be cleared.

As this paper goes to press the editor is attending a meeting of the Youth Center committee, called as he understands it, for the purpose of either nailing to the cross rumors that are current about goings on in that youth center or if needed, to take remedial measures that will make that youth center the place that it was supposed to be when it was organized.

The editor has no use for people who spread rumors and then are unwilling to back their statements with facts. They are doing a great injustice to the youth of Arlington Heights.

We are unwilling to believe that Arlington youth are going to damnation. They are as fine a lot of boys and girls as are found anywhere. The field house could not be put to better use than as a home for Ramble Inn. — a general meeting place for our youth.

In place of looking for opportunity for criticizing the actions of our youth, let us give them all the breaks.

Arlington prepares for realty boom in 1947

The coming year will be a big one for Arlington Heights from a realty view. Owners of property ripe for development are doing the preliminary work that will enable them to place on the market building lots with improvements and permanent roads installed. Much of this is close-in property.

The published proceedings of the city council have been carrying stories of the improvements being installed in Arlington Ridge. The extent of those improvements are not noticeable from the highway, but a trip through Elm street reveals the extent of the road work. The underground construction has been completed. The streets are now being hard surfaced after being properly graded with catch basins installed, etc. The high school expansion program is taking a large slice out of Arlington Ridge, but a public park promised by the subdividers still stands, the title of which is in the hands of the park district.

Hugo J. Thal, who recently acquired nearly five acres of "moran" land at Vail street and Euclid is clearing his property preparatory to its development. In the area of North Chestnut there are a half dozen new homes under construction.

George Schenberger is constructing a ranch type house of considerable proportions on N. Haddow. There are other new homes underway in that area. A little to the south there are thirty acres lying between Euclid and Miner, Hickory and Dryden, that has been opened up with the aid of a bulldozer, that pushes over trees 12 to 15 inches in diameter. This tract was a nursery of the Klehm and had become almost a jungle. The bulldozer has cut through the streets and gives a general idea of the ultimate plans of the subdividers.

There is an adjoining tract of five acres known as the E. F. Gable tract that is reported to be ready for market next year.

The greatest news of all is word that the old city dump is going to be knocked into oblivion and possibly replaced with a park.

Monday night the village board reviewed plans of the James subdivision submitted by the new owners, which call for the early hard surfacing of a number of streets in that area, which is in the northeastern part of the village.

These realty developments are not just dreams of the future. They are dreams that will be realized next year if building restrictions are lifted sufficient to make them possible.

Regardless of world affairs, Arlington Heights reality is on the move. The town is growing and it is high class growing, not war-time housing.

School head moves to house bought by board

Supt. Ehrhorn and his family are now residing at 616 N. Ridge, opposite the high school building. This property was recently purchased by the high school board from Attorney Nichols. The Nichols residence is of two homes in the area desired for athletic and general school purposes.

Telephone Co. to ask first rate boost in 25 years

The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. is about to ask for the first boost in 25 years on service charges. After a study of their costs and receipts the company is certain that an increase in rates is necessary. Until their studies are completed, they will not know exactly when their request for the increase will be filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission, nor exactly how much of an increase will be required to restore the balance between income and expenses.

A company statement issued last week outlines the situation as follows:

"While engaged in the largest service improvement effort in its history, the Telephone Company has been struggling with its own high cost-of-living problems. All during the war, and especially since the war, Illinois Bell Telephone Company earnings have been going down. This is a fact, despite the largest number of telephones and calls ever. This year earnings will be as low as in our worst depression year. Earnings next year will be the lowest in the 65 year history of the company. Compared with the pre-war year of 1940, Illinois Bell income is up 59%, but expenses are up 80%. This new expense burden includes increases on almost everything it buys.

"However, the greatest expense increase has occurred in wages, where the total payroll costs are up 126% over 1940. Some 14,000 additional people have been employed and trained to man new equipment in place or on order—but the payroll increase is largely because of higher wage rates. In the Company at this time 60c out of every dollar goes to employees in wages.

"They want to go on paying good wages and improving the service. But with earnings down 54% since 1940, they face a serious problem.

"Their policy has always been to try to provide the best possible service consistent with fair treatment of employees and the financial safety of the business.

"And the fact is that low earnings now threaten the financial soundness of the business, with consequent harm to customers' service and employees' welfare. Hence, it is evident that in the future telephone rates, in common with most other prices, must reflect the increased costs of doing business."

Ask registration of former teachers

There is frequently a need for substitute teachers in the Arlington Heights high school. The sudden illness of more than one teacher creates a situation that requires substitutes. Supt. Ehrhorn asks that any person who is qualified to teach high school subjects register with his office.

Announce final election results

The official returns of the November 5th election were completed Monday. They did not materially affect the outcome as they substantiated the earlier police returns. The closest contest was for county judge. Judge Jarecki won over his opponent by 8,873 votes.

Owens easy winner

The final returns gave T. L. Owens a plurality over Congressman Link of 46,018. The defeat of the Democratic candidate by such a large majority is indicative of the completeness of the flop into the Republican column that was made by the voters of the 7th congressional district.

The republican candidates for county commissioners from the country towns defeated their opponents by 140,000 votes. Erickson defeated Clayton Smith for president of the county board by 33,984. The final results for the principal offices are:

Firemen's club room ready for official opening

The club room of the Arlington Heights firemen and their auxiliary is ready for "eats". That is the way Sgt. Bauer put it when he invited the reporter to give the once over to the room in the municipal building that has been placed at the disposal of the firemen.

All of the furnishings of the room, including the floor tile to the electric stove, large sink unit and dishes have been furnished by the firemen. There is a piano and other equipment that gives the room a homey touch.

A demonstrator from Hot Point organization was giving the ladies an insight into electric cooking Tuesday afternoon when the reporter stumbled into the meeting. There are other accessories on the way. John Firnbach says: "when we come back from a bad fire on a cold winter night, our wives who also get out of bed when the alarm sounded, will have hot coffee ready for us."

The club room, with all modern conveniences, has been a dream of the firemen for many years. "It's here, let's use it," say the ladies.

Thanksgiving services at Arlington churches

Some Arlington Heights churches will observe Thanksgiving with special services, some of which are to be held Thanksgiving Eve and others on Thanksgiving Day.

St. Peter Lutheran church will hold an English service at 8 p. m. Wednesday evening. A German service will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday.

St. James Catholic church will hold special services at their 8 o'clock mass Thursday morning.

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will hold their services at 8 p. m. Wednesday evening.

First Church of Christ Scientist are having a special service at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

The whole community, whether members of these churches or not, are cordially invited to attend any one of these Thanksgiving services.

Four generations and all boys

When Henry J. Reese 303 N. Benton Street, Palatine celebrated his 84th birthday recently he was surrounded by four generations of boys. The only girl in the Reese family is Emma, the daughter of Mr. Reese, who makes her home with her father.

All of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Reese each have one son. There are no girls. The four generations are Henry J. Reese, 84, Henry F. Reese, Werner C. Reese and Ronald Reese 2 years and 3 months, all of Arlington Heights.

The other sons of Mr. and Mrs. Reese are Edward of Park Ridge who has a son, Edward, Jr., and Ray, who has a son James.

Mr. Reese was born October 4, 1862 on a farm at Palatine and Rand roads. Following his marriage to Miss Sophie Oltrogge, they purchased a farm on Hicks road, adjacent to Palatine, where they operated 52 years. They retired to Palatine in 1940. Their son Ray is now operating the farm.

They will celebrate their 58th wedding anniversary next May.

St. Peter church to raise funds for Lutheran high schools

An appeal for two million dollars is being made by the Lutheran High School Association of Greater Chicago in a campaign to build three new Lutheran high schools in Greater Chicago.

The drive will be conducted among congregations of the Missouri Synod by the three district organizations of the association, and is running through November 30.

St. Peter Lutheran Church of Arlington Heights is cooperating with this campaign for the erection of three Lutheran High Schools. A special envelope offering will be gathered in the two Thanksgiving services, November 27 at 8 p. m. and Thursday, November 28, at 10 a. m.

The Lutheran Churches of Chicago are determined that we need such high schools to further the growth of our youth in Christian knowledge, to safeguard the youth against undesirable development, and to build a strong Church and strong nation in this post-war age.

Palatine Firemen Make Offer To Purchase New Truck

Members of the Palatine fire department greatly regret the sad accident that took two of their members but they are not going to let the loss of a fire truck lessen the efficiency of the department. They have made an offer to the village board that they will replace with a new truck the Chevrolet outfit that was destroyed in the accident, if the village will replace the antique LaFrance fire truck.

The offer was made in a letter to the village board recently. Palatine aldermen were not slow in accepting the offer, but before entering the market for a new truck they will consult with the firemen to learn exactly what kind of equipment is in their minds.

The Palatine firemen have always taken a lot of pride in their fire trucks. They have purchased from their own funds considerable equipment in addition to presenting a fire house to the municipality. Their new offer is in line with their policy to return to the village in fire fighting equipment a major share of the profit earned at their annual festivals.

Insure members

The firemen have also taken out a group insurance policy which provides $3,000 for the heirs of any member of the department who may be killed in line of duty. They have made that insurance retroactive by authorizing the payment from their treasury of $3,000 to the widows of the two members who recently lost their lives.

Christmas seal sale starts this week

Christmas seal sales in Arlington Heights, directed this year by Mrs. C. F. Bloecker, Jr., 821 Vail ave., as local chairman for the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook county. The sale, which is the fortieth conducted by the Institute to finance its year-around activities, started Monday, and will continue through the Christmas season.

The design selected for the 1946 Seal depicts a cheerful lamplighter, signifying the emergence of fresh hope after the darkness of past years. The bright little stamps are intended for use as ornamental stickers on Christmas cards, letters and packages.

In announcing Mrs. Bloecker's acceptance of the local chairmanship, Mr. DeYoung, president of the Institute, expressed the organization's thanks for her willingness to serve and asked the support of Arlington Heights residents.

Local residents received their allotments of the 1946 Christmas Seals this week and began passing them on letters as the first heralds of the coming holiday season.

Marking its 40th anniversary, the Institute is circulating the edition of a new publication, The Challenge.

The Challenge recalls that when the Institute was established in 1906 there was no organized attack on tuberculosis in Chicago or Cook County. There were a great many advanced cases of tuberculosis and the death rate was 192 per 100,000 population. Last year the death rate was 49.3 and the well demonstrated success of the Institute's method of attack justified the statement in the Challenge that "it may even be said that an end to tuberculosis is in sight."

"The Institute," said its director, Dr. Earl E. Kleinschmidt, "has established that the most effective means of reducing the incidence of the disease is to discover it in its early stage. Early discovery means finding the case when the best chance for recovery exists and, from a public health viewpoint, when the patient has not as yet infected his associates."

"All proceeds of the Christmas Seals go toward carrying on the Institute's year-round activities in the country including mass x-ray surveys in schools and industry," said Herbert C. DeYoung, president of the Institute.

County board fixes salaries at final meeting this week

The present county board was to hold its last meeting this week, probably on Wednesday, to transact several important items of business.

Among these was fixing the salaries of the next county board, coming in December 2 and containing at least 10 of the present members. The exact lineup will be known when the board of election commissioners issues its proclamation showing whether Peter Fosco or Mario Tonelli is elected. The salary has been $7,500 for commissioners and $12,500 for president for years, and no reduction is expected.

Also to be fixed are the salaries of assessor, now $14,999, and two members of the board of tax appeals, now $10,000.

The board will receive the comptroller's preliminary estimate on the 1947 budget, which is expected to be below the 1946 all-time high because of non-recurring election expenses.

Finally, the board will consider a written demand from Attorney Michael F. Ryan that 203 maintenance employees in the county building and criminal court building, now under the sheriff, be transferred to the Department of Maintenance and Operation, under the jurisdiction of the county board itself. This is in accordance with a law passed in 1943 by the state legislature to unify services which neither Democrats nor Republicans had made any effort to enforce.

Junior Women to have dance Wednesday

The ladies won't need a new dress to attend the Arlington Heights Junior Women's Club Hard Times Dance Wednesday evening, as this is one time when the "worst dressed" couple will receive the prize. The scene of the dance is the Mount Prospect Country Club.

Wally Hermes Orchestra will start the music for dancing at nine p. m. and continue playing until one a. m. It will only cost two dollars per couple to attend this gala affair and the general public is invited.

First Lecture Speaker

Major Hamilton Long, who will deliver the first of a series of four Sunday evening lectures at the high school auditorium December 8. Fearless and unafraid, Major Long is firing both barrels at the Communists in this country in his address, "Individual Liberty on the Auction Block."

A stirring speaker, Major Long has been endorsed by Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Clubs, and other groups throughout the country that have heard him speak. He appeared over WGN Sunday evening in "Your right to say it."

"Facts, American principles, clear diagnosis, constructive recommendations are the tools he uses in his talks. His presentation is dynamic, born of a deep conviction that Americans must live by American principles and methods if American-style individual liberties are to be preserved at home. If America's course is to provide the leadership for peace, which is the only possible true memorial to those who died in the past two phases of global conflict to prevent World War III."

Arlington Heights Scout financial drive starts December 5

Arlington Heights Boy Scouts have not conducted a financial drive for approximately eighteen months and as a result their treasury is low in funds.

Art Blaschke, district finance chairman, called a special meeting of his committee Monday, November 25, in which ways and means for conducting the week long drive which is necessary, were worked out.

The scouting program in Arlington Heights serves four units, a Cub pack and three Scout troops, a total of over three hundred boys.

Each year a financial drive is conducted to raise funds that will be used to carry on cubbing and scouting activities in Arlington Heights through the Northwest Suburban Council.

The drive in Arlington Heights starts Thursday, December 5 and continues through to December 12.

The committee members present were Stan Huntington, scout executive and Wally DeBuhr, assistant scout executive of Park Ridge; R. T. Evans, E. J. Moritz, Arthur G. Eppig, V. L. Bedingfield, G. M. Chamber of Commerce to help with county event

The citizens of Arlington Hts. and adjoining towns will be given an opportunity to see 4-H Club Show displays next August 22nd and 23rd, according to arrangements being worked out by the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce in collaboration with the 4-H Club Committee headed by Henry L. Moehling.

Heretofore the county exhibit has been south of LaGrange in an isolated spot. However in 1947 the Arlington Heights Park and the fieldhouse will be converted to a show ground for pigs, calves, vegetables, clothing, needlework, etc., that have been made and produced by the 4-H Club members of northern Cook county.

Displays in tents and fieldhouse

In the forenoon of August 22 these club boys and girls will begin bringing in their summer's work to put them on display in tents that will be erected on the street. Dresses from the home economics clubs will be housed in the fieldhouse. The evening of August 22 will be given to a display of judging cattle, hogs and poultry in front of the grandstand.

A program will be worked out so that visitors will be able to see the manner in which calves and pigs are judged.

Through a loud speaker, the progress of the show, with a history of the boys and girls who have raised this livestock, will take place and ribbons will be awarded at that time. In addition, exhibition of work of the Rural Youth members and outstanding displays of livestock breeders in North Cook county will take place.

Agricultural parade

The visitors to this 4-H Club show will have an opportunity to witness a parade of agricultural production that will be interesting and informative. People who like milk, cream and butter will see some of the outstanding cows in the Dairy Herd Improvement Associations in Cook County and their records of production, the amount of feed and labor that is required to produce these dairy food products.

Also there will be a showing of some of the finest bulls owned by livestock breeders in this territory and their performance history, along with the livestock that is being produced by the Northern Illinois Dairy Herd Breeding Association.

Visitors will be given an agricultural show and display for two or three hours, the like of which has never been seen in Arlington Heights.

Farmers ball and dance

On Saturday, August 23, the livestock will be on display with an opportunity for interested citizens to view and see this stock more closely at hand.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the livestock and clothing displays will move out and the two fair days will be concluded by a Farmers Ball and Dance in the fieldhouse.

The committee is working hard several months ahead of the show days so that everything will be in perfect readiness and they request the people of this community to look forward to and support this fair which is being brought to Arlington Hts., both for the benefit of the farming community, the 4-H boys and girls who will be the chief exhibitors and the townspeople who are interested in the agriculture of Cook County.

From time to time other announcements will be made in these columns to keep the public informed of this event.

James Millay Sr. takes over local store

Mr. and Mrs. James Millay took over the responsibilities of the former Mort Green ice cream store Monday morning after having purchased it recently from Joe Jette, who has been operating it the past several months. Their purchase of the store adds to the rapidly growing list of Arlington Heights business houses being run by local citizens.

The store is to be known as "Millay's Ice Cream Shop", and though being completely redecorated at this time, Millay's will remain open for business. The shop will serve sandwiches, coffee and fountain drinks, and will carry a full line of newspapers and magazines and will also sell choice tobaccos and candies.

The Millay family are long time residents of Arlington Hts., their five children all being graduates of Arlington township high school. Mr. Millay has also been very active in local American Legion affairs.

Corn still king

In any farming area the interest is bound to center pretty largely around the yield and quality of corn produced. Every year the DeKalb Hybrid Seed Corn Co. conduct a contest, and the results of the contest have finally been determined. J. Fred Meyer, local agent for the company, reports that the four high winners in the 1948 contest are in the order as follows: Arthur Pierce, first; Alfred J. Glade, second; Homer J. Long, third, and Louis W. Pohlman, fourth, with the high yield of 96.41 bushels per acre.

The yield this year is not so large as in former years, due to the summer drought, but the quality is much better. Corn went into the cobs in excellent condition and indications are that it is of better keeping and feeding quality than usual.

Legion gives thanks for peaceful Thanksgiving

Eighty-seven thousand members of the American Legion this week join with all other good Americans in prayers of thankfulness that the approaching Thanksgiving Day comes as a day of peace, good will, and plenty for the people of this great nation.

They are mindful that many comrades still remain in hospitals, suffering mental and physical disabilities incurred during their defense of our great nation. They pray once more that they will be brought back to health and happiness, and affirm the purpose of extending even greater efforts in their behalf, so that they will once more know the full meaning of Thanksgiving Day.

The American Legion also takes this occasion to remind its members and others that many veterans still are in great need of suitable jobs, homes for their families, and other assistance to enable them to take their fitting place in the country whose democratic way of life they are responsible for preserving. They shall never relax in their efforts until these men can on this day express thanksgiving for the things that the rest of us are privileged to enjoy.

Sound Chimneys
Make sure chimneys are soundly constructed of fire-safe material, with a strong masonry foundation resting on the ground and not on timbers. Thoroughly clean and repair chimneys, stoves and furnaces each fall and make the heating equipment free of fire hazards.

Effective Insecticide
Activated sabadilla, an insecticide prepared from the seed of a lily-like plant native to the country surrounding the Caribbean sea, is said to be quite effective in controlling leaf hoppers, cabbage caterpillars, squash bugs, chinch bugs, harlequin bugs, and Mexican bean beetles.

'Nativity in song and poetry' at Arlington Woman's club

Elizabeth Frye Carr, lyric soprano and Charlotte Lull, pianist, will be presented by the Music Department of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club at the regular meeting of the club on Wednesday, December 4, at 1:30 p. m. in the fieldhouse.

In keeping with the Christmas season, Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Lull have titled their program "The Story of the Nativity in Song and Poetry". It is an original arrangement and collection of songs pertaining to the nativity and includes Christmas Eve by Hageman, No Candle Was There by Lehman, Slumber Song of the Madonna by Head, He Shall Feed His Flock by Handel, Gesu Bambino by Yon and Ave Maria by Schubert.

Mrs. Carr's clear soprano voice and charming stage presence are well known to music lovers in Arlington Heights. She has done concert work here and is one of the soloists of the Methodist church. In addition she has appeared as guest artist on the programs of many clubs and organizations in the village, as well as in other suburbs and in Chicago.

She attended Lawrence College where she studied music under Dean Carl J. Waterman.

More recently she has studied under the direction of Mrs. Forrest Lamont of Chicago. She has been a member of the Chicago Woman's Musical Club.

Mrs. Richard Lull, who will accompany Mrs. Carr, is a gifted pianist and artist in her own right. She is a graduate of the Northwestern University's School of Music.

Girl scout news

All Arlington Heights Girl Scouts enjoy activities which benefit their community. At their meeting November 19 Troop 8 made cotton swabs for the school nurse, Mrs. P. F. Carroll. On November 26 the Brownies of Troop 1 entertained the residents of the Lutheran Old Folks Home with songs and distributed Thanksgiving favors filled with sweets.

The mothers of Brownie Troop 2 were entertained November 20 at an investiture ceremony and Shadowgraph play. The four new members invested are: Judy List, Carol Hall, Doris Rudolph and Evelyn Blume. Troop leaders are: Mrs. Elroy Winkelman and Mrs.

Charles Rehfeldt.

Various types of table settings was the project at the November 18 meeting of Troop 12. This was a requirement for their Hostess Badge. During the business meeting the girls decided to change their meeting day to Tuesday.

Miss Marian Babbitt has completed her course of instructions for Troop Scribes. Those girls who attended and are now qualified to write up their Troop news are: Joan Timmerman and Joyce Dreuer, Troop 1; Barbara Lyon and Pat Shanley, Troop 5; Charlene Rehfeldt and Janet Winkelman, Troop 2; Suzanne Franke, Troop 8; Frances Hubbard, Troop 12.

OIL-PLATES Your Engine!

ACTUALLY a soap bubble is an extremely sheer net of molecules (held together by a strange attractive force) enclosing a sphere of air. And by pioneering in fields of molecular forces, Conoco scientists bring out new and better oils.

For instance, by molecular attraction, a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is bonded to working surfaces of your engine. Unlike the soap bubble which vanishes when pricked, Conoco Nth oil's ingredient holds on—is OIL-PLATED to cylinder walls and other parts.

OIL-PLATING stays up where it belongs... doesn't all drain down to the crankcase, even overnight... gives you these benefits:

- added protection when your engine starts up
- added protection from corrosive action
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

Miss Haeger talks on "Romance of Pottery"

Members of Chapter ER of the PEO Sisterhood of Arlington Heights, entertained friends at their annual "guest night" Monday evening in the parlors of the Methodist Meeting House.

Miss Elsa Haeger, affiliated with Haeger Potteries of Dundee, was guest speaker. Preceding Miss Haeger's talk and demonstration, Elizabeth Frye Carr, soloist, accompanied by Charlotte Lull, presented a group of three songs in her most gracious and charming manner. She chose as an encore Gershwin's "Summer-time".

Miss Haeger laid the foundation for her talk by giving the history of pottery. She said it originated over 4000 years ago and was crude and irregular in form. Up until 1876, foreign pottery was the only kind recognized, especially as a ware of beauty.

In thinking of beautiful pottery we associate the famous names of Polisy of France, Wedgwood of England, and Lenox of America. These men are "the" names in pottery.

Miss Haeger explained the makings of a piece of pottery from its infancy through adolescence, to its full maturity. Very few people realize the time and thought that goes into the making of pottery. Each piece must go through approximately 54 hours of burning in its trip through the kiln.

Miss Haeger has charge of the Haeger Pottery show room on the fifteenth floor of the Merchandise Mart building in Chicago. The Haeger Potteries originally made brick and tile in their present Dundee location.

Christoph Willibald Gluck composed a concerto for musical glasses which he performed in London in 1746 with full orchestral accompaniment, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The "Glasspiel" was played on 18 beer glasses arranged on a cloth-covered board. Water was poured into each to alter the pitch, and the sound was produced by passing the moistened finger around the rims. Sometimes the sides of the glasses were struck, instead, with wooden sticks.

Bensenville inhalator squad saves two overcome by fumes

Mrs. Elsie Nettman and her mother, Grandma Wilke, Bensenville, narrowly escaped death a week ago Sunday when they were overcome by fumes from a gas engine used to generate electric power. Mrs. Nettman's nephew, Reinhardt Miller, who makes his home with her, returned to find his aunt and grandmother seemingly asleep in their chairs in the Nettman home on Lawrence ave. near route 83. Becoming frightened when he was unable to rouse them, he ran to the nearest neighbor's, the Heinrichs, asking for help. After another attempt to awaken the unconscious women, the Heinrichs called Dr. Frederick Oakes, who notified the inhalator squad of the Bensenville Fire Department.

Fire Chief George Boldebeck and firemen Vernon Franzen and Walter Lauman responded immediately, reaching the Nettman home at about 2 a. m. They administered oxygen to the two women for more than an hour before Mrs. Nettman regained consciousness. They worked over Mrs. Wilke until 5:30 a. m. before Dr. Oakes pronounced her out of danger.

Chief Boldebeck said that several other lives in the community have been saved by the department members using this modern, efficient inhalator which was purchased several years ago with funds raised at the annual fireman's picnic. Cost of the tanks of oxygen, always kept ready for emergency use, is also defrayed from the same fund.

English department of Bensenville high school earns high state rating

The English department of the Bensenville Community High School has received special commendation for excellence in the quality of its work by the department of English at the University of Illinois. Of 141 high schools, of all enrollment sizes, in the state which were singled out for recognition and placed on the university's honor roll of high school English, Bensenville Community High School ranked tenth.

Among 49 schools of between 250 and 600 enrollment, the comparative size of the local high school, Bensenville ranked second.

This information has been published in the October, 1946, issue of the Illinois English Bulletin, the official publication of the Illinois Association of English Teachers, in an article by Earl P. Bloom of the University's English department.

For each of these classes an honor roll has been published, an index figure of 3,000 or better being required for honors. From all the schools in the three groups ten schools are further singled out for a special honor roll, Highest Honor, and among these, Bensenville High School placed tenth.

To build homes on south section of Mohawk Country Club

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Village of Bensenville an ordinance annexing the south forty acres of Mohawk Country club was passed.

This tract containing 118 home sites owned by The Branigar Organization, Inc. has been planned for use as a high class residence section by the firm of Kincaid and Oneal, considered among the foremost land planners in the country. Its curved roads will be laid and black-topped in a manner considerably above the minimum requirements set up by the village, with curbs installed and sidewalks along some of the principal drives. Sewer and water mains are being installed with stubs running from the mains to each lot line in order to eliminate the necessity of breaking up the road when a tap is made.

All of these improvements are being installed and paid for by The Branigar Organization, Inc.

SHRINKING COAL STOCKS for Gas Making THREATEN GAS SUPPLY

Continuation of the work stoppage in the nation's bituminous coal mines would seriously affect normal service to our gas customers.

This is due to the fact that the Public Service Company normally relies in part on coal-produced gas which is mixed with natural gas to make up the total gas supply for our customers.

In this emergency, heavy cold weather demands, combined with the coal shortage, could cause the total requirements to exceed the greatest supply we can provide.

The Illinois Commerce Commission and the company join in urging all customers to cooperate in reducing their use of gas.

HERE ARE WAYS YOU CAN HELP:

1. If you heat your premises with gas, keep temperatures no higher than necessary to maintain health.
2. Don't use your gas range to heat the kitchen.
3. If you heat water with gas, don't use more hot water than is essential.
4. Reduce as much as possible the use of all other gas appliances.

Civilian Production Administration has issued an order providing for curtailment of deliveries of gas for certain industrial and commercial uses if coal stocks fall below specified amounts.

We are confident that we will have your full cooperation during this emergency.

Killing trees with arsenic
What's a weed? If you accept the definition that it's a plant out of place, a good many trees in pastures or too close to buildings turn out to be weeds. J. E. Davis, extension forester with the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the State Natural History Survey, says that this is the time of year to kill weed trees.
He suggests making a series of slanting axe cuts which completely encircle the tree trunk a few inches above the ground. Sodium arsenite (a-r-s-e-n-i-t-e) in liquid form is poured into the cuts.
Davis cautions that sodium arsenite is a deadly poison, and it's necessary to keep animals away from the poisoned trees for at least two or three months.

Charles M. Hayes, motor club president, pointed out that under the existing law in the state the driver of a vehicle must stop when a school bus is either receiving or discharging school children.
He points out that this law is not only applicable in overtaking a school bus but also when approaching a school bus from the opposite direction.

Vets must designate beneficiaries for life insurance

Veterans who have National Service Life Insurance were urged by Mel Kehe, manager of the Veterans Administration office in Arlington Heights, to designate beneficiaries for their insurance if they have not already done so.
Kehe explained that the Insurance Act of 1946 has completely changed the situation with respect to beneficiaries and that the old provision for an automatic order of succession, in the event no beneficiary was designated, is no longer in effect for insurance maturing after July 31, 1946.
"Under the new law," Kehe said, "if the insured is not survived by a designated beneficiary, the proceeds of his insurance will be paid in a single sum to his estate at his death."
"As part of an estate, insurance loses its identity as such and is subject to all the laws governing estates, including claims of creditors, administrator's fees, and court expenses. It is now possible in some cases in which the insurance is payable to the insured's estate, that those whom the insured otherwise would have chosen will never realize the benefits."
Kehe reminded veterans that all restrictions on the choice of beneficiaries which were imposed by the original NSLI Act have been removed. Formerly, the insured was permitted only to designate beneficiaries who were near relatives. He now may designate any person or persons, a corporation, or his estate, as the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his insurance policy.

To close three trailer camps

Skokie's three trailer camps have been notified by Mayor Wuerth that trailers must be out by February 1.

Skokie has a village ordinance that prohibits the existence of trailer camps within the village. However, officials have made no attempt to enforce the ordinance during the past year because of the housing shortage.

Bad sanitation conditions in these camps were given as the reason for the order. According to village health authority, the trailer camps have long been an epidemic threat.

One camp has two toilets and two showers located in the basement of a home.

These facilities serve 40 adults and 19 children. There are 20 trailers in all, 9 of which belong to veterans. One trailer is without wheels, creating a fire hazard. The basement shower-toilet rooms have each one window about 1 1/2 x 2 1/2 ft. There are no vents for the toilets. Water is carried by the campers from the basement to their trailers in the winter.

The second trailer camp includes 13 trailers housing 24 adults and 3 children. Two toilets and two showers serve as facilities.

Effort is being made to locate an area where sanitary conditions are improved so that the people now in these trailer camps will have a place to go.

In the recent housing survey conducted by the village and Legion asking that vets fill out their requests, 29 replies were received. Nine wanted to buy, and had $1,000 to $2,000 for a down payment; 16 wanted to rent apartments, and were willing to pay $25 to $75; 11 wanted to rent homes and were willing to pay $40 to $70; and 1 had a trailer and wanted to live in an apartment.

Chicago show will break past records

A final tally of entries for the individual live stock classes of the "Victory" International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show to be held in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards November 30 to December 7, discloses a huge increase in the total number of animals over the last pre-war Exposition in 1941, the management reports.

It is announced that there is a huge listing of the four breeds of cattle that are the main source of supply of the nation's best beef. They are the Aberdeen-Angus, Herefords, Shorthorns, and Polled Shorthorns.

There is a very large increase of swine exhibits, with six of the eight breeds in this division registering advances over any past year. The total is the highest on record, the management states.

There are approximately 350 draft horses, which include five 6-horse teams that will perform daily at the Horse Shows; and nearly 1000 purebred sheep will be exhibited.

Des Plaines to beautify parkway

Alderman Napier reported to the Des Plaines city council that the beautification plan for the railroad parkway area had been completed. The city must approve the plan before it is submitted to the C. & N. W. railroad for final inspection.

The plan contemplates the planting of several hundred feet of privet hedge and six plots of low growing evergreen trees.

Concrete platforms 10 feet wide are to be poured at the two bus stands on Miner and Ellinwood streets. These concrete installations will be borne by the United Motor Coach Co.

Plan calls for the removal of the car stands from their present site to the concrete area just north of the station.

Cost of the project is small—amounting to only $3,000, continued Napier. He said that the city has no money to pay towards the project.

Police capture driver seven minutes after call is received

Seven minutes after they had been asked to apprehend a hit-and-run driver, two Libertyville policemen last week had the man in custody.

A radio call from Lake Forest police told of the driver's colliding with a car in Lake Forest. The man then fled from the scene. A description of the car and the license number was broadcast. Libertyville police began cruising on Milwaukee ave. Near Park ave. they saw the car and took the driver into custody.

REVEALING FIGURES

"We usually think that fashion models have typical American figures. But consider this—while the average model is 5 feet 8 inches tall—government surveys show that typical American women are being only 5 feet 3 inches tall. While the models weigh around 112 pounds, Miss and Mrs. America weigh about 133 1/2. The waist on the model may be a dainty 24 inches, but 29 inches is the goodly span of the rest of the girls."

YOUR DENTAL I. Q.

© American Dental Association

Q: I had two extra teeth impacted below two lower bicusps, one of which grew into the jaw bone, pressed on a nerve and caused my head to draw to one side. Since its removal, three months ago, I am much better, but I still am unable to straighten my head and I suffer from neuritis in my shoulder. Is there any further treatment that I might undertake?—Mrs. F. W.

A: Since you state that you are much improved since the operation for removal of the impacted teeth, it is reasonable to expect that improvement will continue until complete recovery takes place. The pressure caused by the impacted teeth has been of long standing; and even though the cause is now removed, it may take the affected nerves some time to return entirely to normal. It is, of course, important that you remain under the care of a dentist. Neuritis should be regarded as a reflex manifestation of a local or general disturbance rather than as a disease in itself.

Send questions with self-addressed, stamped envelope, to American Dental Association, 212 East Superior street, Chicago, Ill.

Perfect ears of corn are no accident, as any farmer will tell you. Scientific care and meticulous tending are required if the kernels are to grow in fine regular rows. The same is true of human teeth. A strong, healthy set of teeth requires continuous care and the regular, scientific attention of a dentist if they are to remain straight, strong, clean and healthy.

Park Ridge loses $45,000 bond suit

Superior Judge U. S. Schwartz last week ordered the city of Park Ridge to pay $45,553 plus interest to bondholders of Special Assessment No. 268, after holding that the city had "misappropriated and diverted" funds that should have been used to retire the bonds.

"Money collected on account of the special assessment was received in trust by the city of Park Ridge," declared Judge Schwartz, "and could only be used for the sole and exclusive purpose of paying the bonds so issued and interest thereon."

In order to pay the judgment, Judge Schwartz ruled that Park Ridge "shall appropriate and levy such necessary sums of money for the specific purpose of paying the amount so found to be due and owing, the next general tax levy."

A somewhat similar suit against Arlington Heights is in the courts. If the village loses, similar means will have to be used by the Arlington village board to pay the claim, which amounts to over $70,000.

Kenilworth sanitarium to be home for aged

Kenilworth sanitarium in Wilmette has been acquired by the Catholic parish of Glenview, to be used as a home for the aged under the name of Maryhaven, a non-profit corporation, and will be staffed entirely by lay people.

Maryhaven is intended for middle class aged who at the age of 65 will pay a flat and final sum of $5,000 and for the duration of their lives, will receive room, board, bath, laundry, recreation and infirmity service. While a resident chaplain will be at Maryhaven, people of all religious beliefs will be admitted as residents for life.

Civil service examinations

Permanent positions as attendants at the Downey Veterans Administration hospital are announced this week by the board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners stationed there.

This hospital, a short walk from the Great Lakes rail station, is considered one of the most home-like institutions of its kind in the country. Attendants there are engaged in helping veterans who have lost some of their mental equilibrium to regain their useful position in life.

The positions, according to the announcement, are for attendants who will be companionable and help directly in the care of these veterans. The positions will become permanent after one year of satisfactory service under probation.

While veterans are given first consideration for these jobs applications will be received from all qualified persons. Where qualified veterans are unavailable for the positions competent non-veterans will be appointed.

All must be in the hands of the secretary of the board at Downey not later than January 11, 1947.

Barrington area yielding bumper crop of foxes

Sportsmen in the Barrington area report the pheasants are a bit scarce this year, but a bumper crop of red foxes is prowling the countryside—which may help explain the shortage of pheasants.

Norman Vessey of Barrington, who traps foxes as a sideline, reports that he has caught eight of the animals within the past two weeks. He has gone out after them in previous years, he said, but his catch over an entire season rarely has totaled more than two or three.

Ralph Toppie shot two red foxes on the opening day of pheasant season, November 11. Fritz Van Steenderen also bagged an animal that day. There is a direct connection between the abundance of foxes and the scarcity of pheasants, he said, because in one fox den he found a large pile of pheasant bones and feathers.

Libertyville will foreclose on 42 lots

Tax foreclosure suits involving 42 lots and parcels of land were ordered by the Libertyville village board last week. The purpose is to put the lots on a basis where taxes will be paid and dwellings erected.

It was not stated the total amount of the special assessment delinquencies, or the general arrearages.

Attorney John Mooradian said that he was prepared to offer a bid of 40 per cent of the delinquent tax amounts. This is the highest bid received by the village in any foreclosure suits. Bids for some lots will run as high as $300, one $400 and others $200.

$612 additional pay gets street sweeper within 12 hours

Just as quick as you could say "we'll give you $612 additional" the new street sweeper arrived in the city of Des Plaines. The council voted the extra money last week, Monday evening, and the long-missing sweeper was delivered Tuesday morning.

May reinforce curfew law in Lombard to curb delinquents

Reports at the Lombard village board meeting last week of the theft of two automobiles parked in the center of Lombard, for no other apparent purpose than a brief joy ride by one or more juveniles, gave a fresh turn to a delinquency problem that is admittedly not peculiar to Lombard but which the local officials would still like to send into reverse.

Immediate reaction of the village trustees, after this and some other discussion of the major time in police court that is being consumed by cases involving minors, was a decision to resurrect Lombard's curfew ordinance. The measure has been on the books since 1915, calls for all children under 16 to be off the streets by 9 p.m.

That hour may be a bit harsh in view of the still current double movie features. It was conceded, but the situation definitely calls for some revival of control. The public protection committee was instructed to bring in a plan for an amended curfew ordinance at the next board meeting.

Thieves enter Shermerville express office

Burglars entered the station office, Shermerville, Tuesday evening, gaining entrance by breaking the window glass. A fair sized COD parcel valued at $40 was rifled and several money orders taken. The COD parcel was addressed to Frank Smith and had arrived at the Shermerville express office several days ago. The fact that Frank Smith is unknown hereabouts appears to bear out the theory of Agent Hipsley that the purchases are made by the crooks and deliberately consigned to fictitious names C O D. After waiting a sufficient time, they then head for the town and break into the express office and steal the parcel. The same night some crook got away with about 75 lbs. of dynamite and a quantity of fuse of A. Batek's which was kept stored under lock in a reservoir in his woods.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

Ten above here this morning! It was a sudden drop in temperature, for yesterday I picked a bunch of yellow and purple pansies for cousin Georgia, but this morning, the 22nd of November, the garden is quite limp and forlorn.

Rob couldn't get the old Chevy started, and I attempted to push it with the Buick, but we locked bumpers. It was exasperating, for there was only ten minutes in which to catch the train for the city.

Rob finally dislodged the bumpers, and I drove like mad down the rough and bumpy road we call Cemetery Road, and he got to the station in plenty of time — because the train was late.

I came back to the house to find that "the cherubs" had finished their breakfast, and for once in their young lives, had brushed their teeth, and combed their hair without having to be reminded and urged to do so. It was good to be able to sit down for a cup of hot coffee and relax before setting out again in the cold for school. No doubt there will be times this winter when we shall be thankful that the farm is only two miles out of town.

Jane, have you ever, just for fun, jotted down all the things you did and the places you went in one day? I did this one day this week. The amazing discovery was that I might have selected almost any day of the week, and one respect — they all are hectic! It is a daily scramble of rushing in and out of the house to here and there. I suppose most women with families have much the same experience. I have to smile when I stop to think about it.

Take this past Wednesday, for instance: George was barely through with breakfast when he jolted my memory with the statement, "it's band day, Mom. Have to be at school at 8:30." Ordinarily, we need not leave the house until 8:45 if the weather is good, but that morning we had such a heavy fog, we couldn't see fifty feet ahead, and we had to allow extra time, and we left the farm at 8:15 to creep along the highway. Our first stop along the route was to pick up a young boy who attends the parochial school in town. He hitch-hikes every day, and very often we are the first ones to come along. Leaving George at the Junior high school at the north end of town, I drove back to the center and left Edward at the elementary school. Then two blocks to the parochial school to deposit the young hitch-hiker.

There was just a few minutes left in which to take some clothing to the cleaners, leave an order at the grocery, and meet cousin Georgia at the bank at nine o'clock. She hadn't yet appeared, so I parked the car, rushed into the news depot to buy a Trib, and the agent greeted me with a broad smile and: "I see you made the Wake this morning." Sure enough, I had, but drat it, how can I convince my friends of that, when they misprinted my name, and it read: "Nary, of Harvard, Illinois," instead of "Mary?"

Georgia and I started south and reached Arlington Heights around 10:45. I left her at the Emerald Shop to select a baby present while I went around to my favorite publishers to see if there was still time to have a drawing reproduced for our Christmas cards. The Big Boss assured me there would be time, and we decided on paper and envelopes.

If you have ever been in a weekly newspaper office on the day the paper goes to press, you know it is one of the busiest places in the world. But in spite of the apparent lack of time for anything else but business, the Boss stopped long enough to show me a picture of a little boy, and he said, with great joy in his voice: "This is my grandson. We are very proud of him." Newspapers have a reputation for being cold and very often

There has been all manner of speculation about this part of Cook County about what a Forest Preserve really means and if all those beautiful woods would be shut off from the public as well as the cows, to whom it has been a haven for many years. The following facts were obtained by the publications office from one of the men interested and who may be the landscape engineer in charge. It is probable that the whole park will be enclosed with a woven wire high fence, with suitable gates at convenient places. Some local man will probably look after the park, see that hunters obey the laws and especially be on hand Sundays and holidays when it is expected that large numbers of city people will be availing themselves of the shade and beauty of the park.

Parts of the grounds may be enclosed so that wild deer can be permitted. In all probability the farmers will be permitted to pasture in the woods, as otherwise the grass and growths would soon make the grounds a fire trap. It will be the aim to preserve the best trees, reforest parts and perhaps build a few dams to form small lakes, etc.

Our informant further said that parts of Deer Grove are as pretty spots as anyone can find within Cook County and there are great possibilities of making it into a playground and park that will be of great and lasting benefit to the people of the county.

The Lindley (Ela) tract and parcels owned by Messrs. Elfrink, John Kitson and John Landwehr will next receive attention at the condemnation suit that is now pending. Several small tracts have been bought within the past week.

Arlington enjoys entertainment at public school

The public school entertainment at Arlington Hall last Friday night was both good and useful. Those 16 young ladies under the instruction of Prof. Zoll gave a practical demonstration of the cold pack process of canning fruits and vegetables. Such knowledge of domestic science will prepare them to become good cooks and housekeepers and tend to make their lives happier. Everyone there noticed how they attended strictly to their work till it was done.

Tales

of the STREET

BY T. C. HART

WONDERS OF NATURE

Nature does some strange things when it comes to plant growth. Given any kind of a chance, plants will grow under some of the most surprising conditions.

Herman Deverman had an illustration of that fact the other day when he was harvesting his carrot crop. One carrot he picked had grown through a piece of tin four inches square. The tin had evidently had a small hole in it, and the carrot went right through.

The part of the carrot above the tin was normal size, then narrowed to go through the hole, and blossomed out again on the other side, but was smaller than at the top.

Freak growths will always win out with any kind of a chance.

DR. GALLUP

Dr. Gallup, who has established a great reputation these last few years with his forecasts of election results and political trends gave voice recently to his opinions on the intelligence — or rather lack of it — of the average American voter.

The good doctor wound up his criticism of the average voter's lack of intelligence by saying that most mothers would rather see their sons grow up to be street cleaners than to have them mixed up in modern politics.

It just seems the good doctor slipped a cog on that one. Doesn't he realize that getting a job cleaning streets is all a part of the great American political system, and that in most big cities in order to even get a job cleaning streets you have to "know someone" and "have a letter" or a "word" from some ward committeeman, precinct captain, or someone else "in the know" of the powers that be.

It really looks like Doc was lambasting the intelligence of the American voters about politics, and then showing a surprising lack of intelligence himself about the same system.

PLAYING HUNCHES

Athletes are famous for playing hunches, being superstitious about this and that, and in looking for anything that will give them a break in the game.

The other day we asked Bud Nangle, manager of LaLonde Realtors, why the big numbers on the new basketball uniforms.

Bud was quick on the comeback. "To make sure there are no mistakes in the calling of fouls," he was quick to answer. "Can't a referee or scorekeeper see a number 4 or 6 just as easily as he can a 46?" we asked. Then we both realized we weren't talking about the same kind of numbers. We were thinking numerically and Bud was thinking of physical size.

"Oh that," Bud replied. "Those are the numbers worn by the boys when they were in high school. They wanted it that way and we gave them everything they desired. Now let's hope they sort of even things up." Bud meant he hoped the boys would give the fans something for their money—good basketball games. The fans will get their money's worth Wednesday night when the boys play the Harlem Globe Trotters, and should get plenty of excitement in future games for the Realtors.

BUSY SQUIRRELS

The farmers aren't the only ones who have had a wonderful fall to do their harvesting. The many squirrels about town have also been busy these fine fall days in preparing for winter.

They have been laying away walnuts since early in the fall and they are still busy harvesting late nuts that are available.

The little animals have a good supply put away in hollow logs and hidden throughout the landscape where they can get them this winter. It's always been a source of wonder how these little fellows can find their caches when winter comes and the ground is frozen with snow on the ground.

We have often watched them burrowing into the snow until only the tip of a bushy tail is showing. They come up with a nut as regular as clockwork. It's either an extreme sense of smell or an uncanny sense of location and good memory that enables them to do this stunt.

Another thing, they never put away any counterfeit or hollow ones, either. We've watched them, countless times, pick up a nut, roll it in their paws, and smell it, and then toss it away. We've checked on some of those discarded nuts and not once have we found a good one.

FREE COUNTRY

One of the boys along the street told us the other morning "If I ever get so boiled up over something you write as some people do and quit the paper I'll be darned if I'll borrow a neighbor's or buy one at the newsstand to see what's in it."

Well, it's a free country, and everyone can do as they please. If it wasn't, John L. Lewis wouldn't be here.

It Happened Here

Tree Etching

How lovely is that tree
A symbol of pure grace!
Its leafless branches fret
Into patterns of rare lace.
Stippled against a sky
Of pale and milky blue
Its phant web sifts sunshine thru:
The pale and Delft blue sky.
Each cloud a cherub's head,
Makes for Victorian lace.
A soft and pearly bed.

It had been so long between times, we had forgotten the magic of the first frost: the rows of gay cherrises were lightly powdered with delicate tulle as if, coming home late from a party, each flower had thrown a scarf over its head; and tiny frozen puddles were just beaded purses that once held these gauzy handkerchiefs, too frail for any use. The big puddles were edged with crisp embroidery and Valenciennes lace, as the pantalettes and old fashioned petticoats had been spread to dry, blown back from a generation ago. But try to salvage one!

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver and Robin McKown

The Book-of-the-Month Club has a ruling that no book written by a member of its Editorial Board can be a Club selection. This applies to John P. Marquand, who, before he became one of the Club's judges—along with Dorothy Canfield, Clifton Fadiman, Henry Seidel Canby and Christopher Morley—had two books-of-the-month to his credit—"H. M. Pulham, Esq." and "So Little Time."

His new book, "B. F.'s Daughter," is being hailed as "the best of Marquand's five novels of our American way of life." "B. F.'s Daughter" tells the story of Polly Fulton, who has money, glamour and intelligence, and who still cannot find a happy life for herself. It is also the story of the disruption on the civilian front that came as the backwash of the war. The scene shifts from New York to Connecticut to the Pentagon Building in Washington.

Mr. Marquand is a skillful writer who knows how to tell a story. His book holds your interest from the first page to the last. He knows his people. In fact, as one critic on the distaff side commented, he shows an understanding of women that makes one downright uneasy.

Letitia Preston Osborne, author of "They Change Their Skies" and "Through Purple Glass," claims to be the only living lady novelist who is loved by an iguana. It seems that recently when she vacationed in the Honduras, an iguana, a dreamy, Latin type, kept watching her from a neighborhood tree. Finally one day he showed up in the family bathtub with a hopeful and admiring look on his lizard's face. He was removed by the hired man.

You don't find much conjugal happiness among the scorpions, relates Jean Henri Fabre in "Animal Tales," an anthology edited by Ivan Sanderson. The courtship between a male and female scorpion takes the form of a wrestling match. To increase the lady's interest, the male stands on his head. Then they go for a walk, during which it is always he who decides which fresh turn the pair should take. But alas! his dominance does not last. When the courtship is over, she calmly devours him.

Blames 'oldsters,' church and school heads for teaching lack of respect for laws

WHO IS TO BLAME?

Everywhere you go, you hear the question "What's wrong with the youth of Arlington Heights?" "Where will all this trouble lead to?" "What shall we do about it?"

Before we censor the kids too severely, let's look at every angle first. What have the "oldsters" of Arlington Heights done for the kids, as far as building characters and setting examples of right thinking are concerned? Let's face it, folks! We have FAILED our teen agers pitifully.

Last year you held a public trial, right in the teen ager's own school, pitting principal against teachers and teachers against principal. Were the teen agers barred from admittance. Oh, no! They were even called to the stand, giving testimony for or against the figures involved. This wrought no end of harm and undermined the morale and respect of the student body for their faculty. It will take years before this wound heals. Right there is your answer for so many kids leaving high school. They can't fully analyze their feelings themselves, but careful research will bring it back to that ill-famed trial.

Then, too, only recently the respected head of one of our local churches leaves his wife and baby and breaks up another home, making three little boys half orphans. If the school leaders and church leaders, who should have the teen-ager's respect, make utter fools of themselves, what can you expect of the kids? Let's teach by example and not words.

Then, too, when you look at the cheap publicity which some of the high school students and their parents condoned, with pictures and write ups in every Chicago newspaper last week, you wonder where and how the children involved can ever set two feet on level ground. If the school and the church fail them, and their own parents apparently glorify the unfortunate incident, where will these kids get their proper guidance?

There's so much talk and so much pressure being brought to close the Youth Center. The very people who talk the loudest are those who never contributed a dime to its support and who do not appreciate teen agers' problems of today because they have no teen agers in their homes. Let's not kid ourselves—the teen ager's problem is a big one, and its responsibility is ours. Instead of closing the Youth Center, let's give it more support, and clean it out. It's no secret that there's too much drinking going on and that the boys and girls get too boisterous at too late an hour. A close survey will show that a great deal of the drinking is done by out of town youths, who do not attend Arlington High. Let's keep these kids out—Let's keep the youth center above reproach—Let's take more interest in it—Let's demand that boys and girls come home immediately after its closing—Let's put thumbs down on all drinking.

This, my fellow citizens, is your duty. Maybe it will be a tough assignment, but it will be worth it. The teen agers of today will be civic leaders tomorrow. Whatever you do, DON'T close the Youth Center. If you will have a scourge of juvenile delinquency such as this town has never known.

A Worried Mother
Arlington Heights.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Of all of the people on my route, who live happy, contented lives, the happiest ones are those whose civility and consideration for others are their outstanding traits of character.

And how little it costs to be civil! Just a little more thoughtfulness, a little more self control and courtesy, and life is happier, more enjoyable for everyone—yet a day seldom passes that most of us are not rudely reminded of the discourtesy of man toward man.

Rudeness is the natural instinct of the savage, and thus of us all at heart. Consider young children at play, before they have reached the age when age and experience have taught them the lessons which every civilized savage has to learn, the habit of the guarded tongue and of restrained action. They say exactly what they think, and their first instinct is to fight if they do not get their way. Some people I know (and no doubt many that you know too) have never outgrown this state of childhood savagery. The idea of breaking down our pride to a point of bowing, thanking, begging pardon, tipping our hats, or in any such way lessening our pride and independence by a show of deference would leave us cold if it were not for the reflection of gentility which custom has given to our courteousness, and the respect we gain before others by a show of gentility.

But if a civil word will make another person happy, a word of honest praise give him added courage and energy in his work or his life, it is very small of one to refrain from speaking that word. If a word of apology will break down a wall of hatred and distrust between two people, that word should be spoken.

Most of the big companies insist that their employees be courteous and civil to the public they serve. Really successful people know that civility pays big dividends. If it is good business for these people to be civil, it is good business for you. So if you want to be attractive, well liked and popular, try to improve your attitude and manners toward others. Civility attracts the respect of other people much as a magnet attracts steel filings. It is attained by forethought, generosity and tact—traits that we can all acquire.

Farmers at IAA session ask economy in government

Organized agriculture in Illinois is demanding a cut in federal expenditures and a balanced budget for the nation.

Delegates to the 32nd annual convention of the Illinois Agricultural Association, the state Farm Bureau organization of 130,800 farmers, made this point unmistakably clear in the resolutions adopted at the closing sessions Thursday, Nov. 21.

Delegates adopted resolutions calling for national legislation that would afford better regulation of adverse labor practices, encourage of industry, labor, agriculture and finance to promote better understanding and full production, called for improved administration of unemployment compensation so that benefits would be paid only to those who are actively seeking and actually unable to obtain employment, and called for coordination of federal agricultural credit agencies.

The resolutions also asked for a coordination of federal agricultural agencies in order to avoid duplication of activities, reduce expenses and increase services to farmers.

Present national farm legislation which provides some protection against loss of income due to factors outside farmers' control was recognized as basically sound, and therefore should be retained. Opposition was voiced against any basic change in the existing parity formula. All efforts to raise the general parity level at this time by the inclusion of wage rates or by similar means was condemned.

Delegates urged the adoption of a national soils fertility policy and program to assure farmers greatly increased supplies of high analysis mineral fertilizer.

particularly phosphorus and potash. Such a program is needed, it was pointed out, in order to pay back the soil the nutrients extracted by heavy production, and thus assure the people of an abundant supply of nutritious food.

Delegates said they would also sponsor legislation to distribute the burden of school support more equitably by abolishing school administrative districts which have had fewer than five pupils for three successive years. Exceptions should be made, it was pointed out, where such requirements would work unnecessary hardship on local people.

In line with the growing demand for government economy, Earl C. Smith, Detroit, Ill., president of the IAA, in his address said that "untold thousands on the U. S. department of agriculture payroll are of no practical value to the people who own the land or who produce the food and fiber in this country."

"During the depression," he continued, "farmers of necessity had to call upon government for action programs, some of which today are of little value. It would be a comparatively simple process to sift from those needed, those that are not needed, if impartial people were given the task. If this kind of an approach is taken by farmers, they will be in a very good position to demand similar action from other interests."

Now is time to mulch all strawberries

Winter's right on us, and that means it's time to mulch strawberries. A. S. Colby, University of Illinois College of Agriculture horticulture department, gives us some reasons why mulching pays: The straw protects the crowns of the strawberry plants, where the buds are located, and keeps the plants from heaving out of the ground during winter freezes and thaws.

Next spring the mulch will hold back the plant growth during the first warm, sunny days that are so often followed by a killing frost. And by keeping the berries off the ground, mulches prevent some berries from molding and also make picking more pleasant. Then, too, the mulch will help keep moisture in the ground during the picking season, and that's important because a strawberry is more than 80 percent water.

Colby says wheat straw makes the best mulch; millet cut before the seeds mature is also satisfactory. About three tons of straw to the acre, or one 70-pound bale for each 500 square feet, will give the recommended three-inch mulch. For best results, scatter the straw loosely over the plants. Be sure to loosen the straw as the bale is broken open. A mulch as thick as six inches will delay the berries too much in the spring, and run the cost of mulching too high.

Many people, knowing that strawberries are semi-evergreen, believe that they don't need winter protection. But Colby says mulching pays in increased yields and cleaner berries. Those figures again for the recommended three-inch mulch: Three tons of wheat straw to the acre, or one bale for 500 square feet. It's a good idea, if you live in northern Illinois, to use a little more; in southern Illinois, a little less.

And, he continues, disinfecting and cleaning houses, grounds and premises is another way to help prevent infection. Burning contaminated bedding before the weather gets too cold is another recommended practice.

While we're cleaning up, a check for mange in the hogs and for chronic erysipelas cases is a good idea. Lame, unthrifty animals with swollen joints usually turn out to be erysipelas-infected and should be culled.

Arlington host to Maine in basketball opener Saturday

MAC SAYS:

BY GERALD A. MCELROY

One very important change in the basketball rules this year is tending to drag out the last four minutes of all games. This rule is that time is out on all out of bounds, held ball, and other situations where the referee blows his whistle. With time in only when the ball is actually in play the final four minutes of play consumes an over all time of as much as 12 minutes. The reason for the new rule is the abuse of the free substitution rule put in two years ago. This was a badly needed rule but many coaches used it for a purpose which tended to slow up the game in a manner overlooked by the rule makers.

No stalling by means of held balls under new rule

When a team is behind in the last four minutes of a ball game they naturally want as much playing time as possible. They conserve in order that they may catch their opponents. Every time the ball is dead such as out of bounds and held ball situations the clock was still running. On the one hand the team in the lead used to take their time and use these situations to kill time. The trailing team substituted players at such times because time is out on substitutions thus saving precious seconds otherwise lost while the official was giving the ball to a team out of bounds or arranging players around the jumping circle and tossing up the ball. Some coaches substituted every time the referee's whistle blew in the final minutes as they paraded substitutes in and out of the game. As 30 seconds are allowed for substitutions this caused a great deal of delay.

Every second of last four minutes is actual playing time

The new rule also slows up the finish of the game but it is played without excessive substitutions and the trailing team is guaranteed that every second of time remaining is actual playing time. The leading team which started stalling in other years with two minutes or one minute to play now finds that actually in comparison the time remaining is nearly doubled. The new rule treats both sides more fairly. Now the only stall is a ball handling one. Even slow acting officials used to be an aid to the team leading but they can take their time now on held balls and not interfere with the time element in the game.

Friday at Maine Township the Palatine JV game was checked for the overall time in the last four minutes. It took eleven and three quarters minutes to play the last four minutes. One result of the new rule is to lengthen the actual time in a game that the ball is in play and require better physical condition on the part of the boys.

We feel that the new rule is a good one but believe that all games should start at 7:15 instead of 7:30 for double headers which used to finish at 10:00 or a little after will not be concluded now until 10:20 or later.

Already shifting our N. W. Conf. estimates

On the basis of later reports and scores this past week end it appears that our team rating in the Northwest Conference which appeared last week might stand a little revision. Wauconda, Palatine's opening opponent to-night (Wednesday) has beaten Richmond, Woodstock and Huntley thus far and certainly appears to be slated for a position higher than that of sixth or seventh we mentioned a week ago. Antioch, with five lettermen, is reported to have a new boy, Oehlgen, who has come from Chicago, who is good enough at center so that veteran Dan Jones is shifted to a forward spot. This gives Antioch two tall boys over six feet and if true would stamp the Sequoias definitely as the league favorite.

Then also Barrington probably merits a higher rank than the fourth we predicted for them. Anyway you look at it, the race appears wide open with the title going to anyone of seven teams, depending on training, freedom from sickness, reserve strength, and whether they can play consistent ball.

Palatine church entertains football lettermen

Being entertained by a community organization at the close of a football season was a new experience for Palatine football players last week. The invitation of the Northwest Suburban Bible church to a banquet and program at the Tally Ho in Park Ridge was the first time Pirate football boys have ever been entertained as far back as we remember. Needless to say it was a fine event, greatly enjoyed by the squad, and greatly appreciated by the school administration and coaching staff.

Coaches will attend Catholic cage clinic

Many basketball coaches from this area will attend the coaching clinic next Friday being sponsored by the coaches' association of the Catholic schools of Chicago at Loyola University. We attended a similar one at DePaul last year and it was especially fine. This year's program is an all-day affair with eats at noon and the group invited to attend the Loyola-Milwaukee Teachers College basketball game in the evening. Speakers on the clinic program are Ray Meyer, DePaul University coach; Ed Krause, head basketball coach of Notre Dame University; Tom Haggerty of Loyola University; "Strings" Allen, coach of Waukegan High School; Wm. Postl, Coach of Tilden Tech., city champs of 1945-46; Al McGuff, Weber high coach, and Dan O'Brien of Fenwick High of Oak Park.

Review Northeast prospects

This week we have an article concerning the prospects at four of the eight Northeast Conference schools which open their league schedule on Friday, December 6. Next week we will write about the other four and give some conclusions of our own concerning the conference race which, like the Northwest, appears to be rather wide open.

Sports interest taxes seating capacity of small gyms

One of the problems of all the schools this year will be that of handling the crowds. We seem to be in a new era of expanded sports interest and

The Arlington Heights Township High School Cardinals will pry the lid off their 1946-47 basketball schedule when they entertain Maine Township High School basketball in a game in the local gym this coming Saturday night, November 30. There will be two games with the Junior Varsity playing at 7:30 and the main tilt scheduled for 8:45.

Coach Clarence Iba, starting his second year at Arlington, has four returning lettermen on which to build his team this year, two regulars and two reserves from last year's Northeast Conference Championship team. Big Allan Stroker, 6' 5", 230 pound center and Burton Dahlstrom, 5' 11" guard, are the two returning regulars. Bill Kleiner, flashy reserve of last year and Vic Heimsoth, who saw considerable action, have moved up to the regulars this year.

These four, together with Dan Magnus, will perhaps comprise the starting five with Kleiner and Heimsoth teaming up the forwards, Stroker at center, and Dahlstrom and Magnus at the guard positions. All these boys are seniors except Heimsoth, who is a junior.

The list of capable reserves include the following: Willard Hogreve, Bob Creamer, Bob Sapp, Bob Boeckh, Bob Wille, Dale Williams, George Payne, and Leonard Garms, all seniors. Twelve of the thirteen Varsity boys, therefore, are seniors.

The J. V.'s, coached this year by Athletic Director H. W. Grace, will present in all probability an opening lineup composed of the following: Orville Schaeffer and Lew Draper, forwards; John Shanley, center; and Bill Robinson and Wally Beckman, guards.

Fourteen other boys round out the J. V. squad, namely: Marvin Berschet, Donald Dewey, Ronald Obermann, Lloyd Meyer, Thomas Stockdale, Charles Dreser, Marvin Praelberg, Phillip Theis, Taylor Lewis, Pat Meacham, Paul Ransdell, Eugene Buse, Ralph Engeling and LeRoy Grandt. All the J. V. boys are sophomores and juniors.

Freshman basketball practice will open within a few days, with the opener on the yearlings' schedule set for January 6.

Attention is called to the fact that there has been a slight increase in the admission price of an adult ticket, 60c instead of 50c. The student price will remain the same.

F. C. Schmoys' band and twirlers, as usual, will be on hand to add to the spirit of the evening.

Whistle tooters for the opening game will be Mike Rose and Tommy Kouzmanoff.

Warren hopes dim

Niles will show plenty of power in evenly contested Northeast race

by G. A. MCELROY (Sports Ed.)

Prospects in the Northeast Conference basketball race of 1946-47 which opens December 6 indicate that a wide open race is likely to be the situation. It will be hard at the outset to select the first division clubs. Our survey this week will cover information about four teams which meet each other on the opening night. Next week the other four will be reviewed.

Libertyville will be host to Niles in the opener next week. Last season the extremely tall Niles Trojans were a real basketball power in this area. They were just behind Arlington's champs in the standings and took the measure of several Suburban League teams as well as defeating Maine Township on two occasions.

Niles lost considerable material by graduation, including much of their scoring punch but have enough left to be dangerous in an even race. Ted Stockfish, a 5' 10" forward, was one of Niles' spark plugs last year while Frank Williams, 6' 4" guard, is a veteran of two previous varsity campaigns.

Niles had a strong JV team last year and will make a good record. No better indication of this fact can be found than the score of the New Trier game Friday night with Niles in front by one point.

Wildcats are tall and experienced

Coach Art Bergstrom's Wildcats did not gain much fame for Libertyville last year as they stayed in the second division all year. They did win the district tournament, however, and have quite a group of tall and experienced boys returning. Three regulars back are Don Bornell, a fine six foot junior guard;

Warren Huffman, six foot two center; and Earl Young, five foot eleven forward. Other letter winners are Bob Krummery and Herr, forwards. Best boys up from the JV are Harry Eiserman six foot center and Joe Nemmers six foot two forward.

The "Cats" will be tall but may be too slow to rate first division. It remains to be seen but in playing Waukegan, Oak Park, and DeKalb they should be set for their league opener.

Warren has limited material

The erection of the new Grayslake high school cut away from Warren athletics nearly all members of last year's junior varsity cage team leaving the Blue Devils with very limited material. In view of this fact Warren will have a tough time staying out of last place. Coach Verne Gowse has George Klindera a five foot eleven forward and Al Metcalf, a five foot eleven guard as a nucleus for his cage team. Metcalf, a returning war vet, played at Warren two years ago and should help a lot. Harvey Albertson will handle the lightweights and John Ligon the freshmen as Warren builds for the future.

Woodstock has new coach and four lettermen

O. C. O'Hara will handle basketball at Woodstock this year and hopes to bring the Blue and White out of the second division spot they have held for several seasons. To do this he has Jim Olsen, six foot two center; Larry Dale, six foot guard; Bob Dodge, five foot nine forward; and Wayne Colohan, five foot nine forward from last year's squad. In non-conference games the Woodstock five has not looked too impressive and it may be that they will have a tough time staying with the top flight clubs of the league such as Crystal Lake, Lake Forest, Arlington Heights and Niles.

Stroker, Williams of Cards, 7 from Lake Forest listed on composite squad

by G. A. McElroy (Sports Editor)

Twenty-seven Northeast Conference football athletes are honored on the all star squad selected by the Cook County Herald. Lake Forest's undefeated champions placed seven boys in honor positions including four on the first team, while runnerup Niles had six selections and also four on the first squad of 13. The squad was selected by the sports editor on the basis of game reports, coaches comments, and all opponent teams selected by some of the football squads.

Four boys stood out as unanimous selections at their positions. We have made Jerry Hansen and Amos Jones of Lake Forest co-captains of the mythical team because both boys are good enough to rate all state consideration. Hansen was the best end in this area. He did everything that the most exacting coach could expect from a high school boy. Amos Jones, popular colored tackle, was a standout. He was far ahead of everything in the league at his position. No opponents even came close to handling big tough Amos.

Price of Lake Forest was another good wingman and gets the call over two fine ends. Comstock of Niles and Franz of Crystal Lake. Giant Allen Stroker of Arlington, who played three years of varsity, was moved to center this year where he starred. Due to the shortage of top notch tackles, we have moved him back to his old position and first team rating which he deserves.

The other two boys who are unquestioned choices for the first squad are Bill Witte, Niles' great field general and forward passing expert, and Frank Metzger, the Lake Forest fullback who is rated far ahead of any other ball carriers in the league. Witte's passing was a big factor in Niles' success. Metzger did the major part of the pig skin totting for Lake Forest. His line bucking helped pull the defense in so that Lennie Anderson, our choice for second team quarterback, could throw his deadly passes to the great ends Hansen and Price. Dale Williams gets the call behind Metzger as second team fullback. Williams was a consistent performer and an all round valuable team player.

Four halfbacks

Four boys are named for halfbacks, due to the difficulty of picking out two who were better than the others. All four are well qualified for all star recognition. Wedge of Warren, regular fullback in 1945, was a terrific line smasher. Selig of Leyden won comments for good playing in every Leyden game and would have been a real star on a stronger team.

Dick Bappin, back from the service, helped bring Woodstock's team out of the cellar to a good season. Bob Farr scored 40 points for Leyden and was one of the best open field runners in the circuit. Jim Heiniger, junior who scored 44 points, is the best ball carrying halfback outside the select team. Larry Dale, shifted from end to fullback in early season, helped spark Woodstock to an upset over Arlington.

Al Miller of Niles and the giant 240 pound Ty Krause of Crystal Lake are the best guards in a group of six nominated for the all star squad. Becker of Libertyville was the best of the second team guard selections which number four including Sorenson of Warren, Tessenford of Crystal Lake and Hermansen of Leyden. Olson of Woodstock and Steele of Lake Forest get the second string tackle spots.

With the shift of Stroker of Arlington to tackle the center position was a battle between McNeely of Niles, Moley of Lake Forest and Mackey of Woodstock. McNeely, elected honorary captain of the Niles team at the end of the season, gets the first team call.

The first all star team averages 182 pounds in weight and 5' 11 1/4" in height. The line averages 194 pounds and six feet two inches in height. We would pit this team against anything in the Chicago area. The squad is that good.

See full house Wednesday for Globe Trotters at Palatine

The world famous original Harlem Globe Trotters make their first appearance in Palatine Wednesday, December 4 in what promises to be one of the best independent twin bills ever presented in Palatine.

The Globe Trotters, who have compiled an almost unbelievable record of 2,730 wins against 222 defeats in 19 seasons of play, is all the more remarkable when it is considered that they travel day in and day out through a long schedule and in all sorts of wintry weather playing as many as eight and nine games a week from early November until late April, never rejecting any opponent as too strong, never scouting an opponent beforehand, always playing on opponents' courts, never questioning choice of officials, and always finding time for their clean stunts of showmanship and managing to win nearly every game.

Win championships

It's a record further augmented by such illustrious feats as winning the world's championship tournament at Chicago in 1940, the Mexico City International Invitational tournaments in 1943 and 1944 and playing in the first game as pro champions against the nation's picked college all-stars at the Chicago Stadium in November of 1940 before a world's record basketball crowd.

The first game of the twin bill will pit the Jewel Tea Cardinals of Barrington against the Simplex Ironers of Algonquin in what should be a ding dong battle from start to finish. Jewel Tea has several Palatine boys playing on their team as well as a smart combination of Barrington boys.

Algonquin has a combination of Dundee and Crystal Lake players on their squad and anyone acquainted with basketball in this area knows that the words Dundee and basketball mean the same thing.

The Palatine team consists of such former high school stars as Dick Hildebrandt, Dick Stinson, Knigge of Lake Zurich, Bob Hollinger, Chuck Snyder, Merv Fink, Jim Millay of Arlington Heights, Ray and Bob Howes and Mel Vogt.

Palatine played smooth ball and showed improvement over the St. Charles game. Kolze, playing center against a six foot five man, scored eight points. Birks and Pepper were high for the Pirates with 11 points apiece. Haemker and Steingrinn appeared much improved as they shared a forward spot. Haycock of Maine had 10 points and Larson 12 to pace the West Suburban defending champs.

The lightweight game was tied at 4 all at the quarter but Maine pulled in front at half time 12-8. In the third period the scoring of Orzolek and Hestrup got Palatine back in the game and it was only just at the finish that Maine gained the winning margin. Veitch led Maine with 10 points. Hestrup sank 12 for scoring honors.

PAGE THIRTEEN FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1946

(Continued from preceding page) among the schools up to 1,000 enrollment, this interest has gone far beyond anything the planners of gymnasium had in mind even as recently as 1940 when the remodeled Arlington gym was first used.

Palatine and Barrington, with 20 year old basketball facilities, find themselves faced with a problem of seating fans which cannot be solved without new quarters. Both schools can comfortably seat about 600 people at their games. With a student body of over 300 plus at least 100 grade school fans, only about 200 seats remain for visiting students and fans and the home adults. Both schools could use facilities right now which would seat 2,000 people for their games with Arlington, each other, and rivals such as Elia.

Barrington's plans for a new community high school call for a modern gym which will remedy this situation, but it will be several years before the new gym will be ready. Until then standing room will be at a premium. Friday night Maine township high turned fans away who wanted to see their team play Palatine in a practice game. This is just an indication of what all schools can expect.

We do not look forward to the problem Palatine faces when they try to house the crowd at the Arlington game December 14.

Holiday tournaments are popular

Three schools of this area are planning Christmas holiday basketball tournaments. Palatine will be host to Barrington, Lake Forest, and West Chicago in a tournament held the evenings of December 27 and 28. The same nights Wauconda will have a tournament with Antioch, Northbrook and Grayslake. Zion has invited Elia, Grant and Warren to a one day tourney on December 28.

Leyden had great cross country season

In the cross country season just concluded, Leyden high school, coached by Mohrhusen, made an enviable record. The Eagles won eight dual meets, tied one with South Milwaukee, and lost to Proviso. In nearly all the meets Tony Quattrina came in first. Other leading runners were Clark, Christian, Guill and Salce. Leyden won their own invitational froshoph cross country meet in a tie with Schurz of Chicago beating Lane Tech, Proviso, Argo, La Grange, York, Maine, Evanston, Harrison Tech, and Niles. Cross country is a great developer of boys for spring track and it looks like Leyden had built a program which will go a long way toward winning a conference track championship.

Zimmerman makes great coaching record

Ken Zimmerman, one of the greatest football players in the history of the old Northwest Conference when he competed at Warren under Coach Bob Kelton, has piloted West Aurora to the grid championship of the Big Eight Conference. West Aurora is one of 10 undefeated teams in Illinois and has as good a claim as any school to the state title if they beat East Aurora in the annual Thanksgiving game. Zimmerman brought West from the bottom of the league to the championship in two years, a real feat. He coached at Woodstock where he led the Blue and White to a Northeast basketball championship, directed Maren-go's sports a couple of good years and served as assistant at the University of Illinois before the war.

Lake Forest opens basket schedule

Lake Forest high school athletes, after an all-victorious sweep on the gridiron, have turned to the basketball court with Coach Art Serfling handling the Scout cagers.

Assisting Serfling with the squad is Roy E. Etnyre, who will also coach the junior scouts quintet this season. The scouts opened their schedule Tuesday afternoon, meeting Zion-Benton's Zee Bees at the latter's court.

Coach Serfling has four returning lettermen this season. They are Bob Price, Amos Jones, Walter Jones and Eddie Burns. Because of grid injuries, several other promising prospects will not be available for several weeks.

The Lake Forest varsity quintet won 12 games and lost seven a year ago and has high hopes of bettering that mark this season.

Coach Etnyre has Ray Sayoc, Gil McCormick and Dick Williams returning to the jayvee team, which placed second in the Northeast conference last year.

Next game for the Lakers is against Northbrook December 3.

Collegians beat Bensenville VFW

The newly-formed VFW Post 2149 basketball team was no match for the clever, sharpshooting Chicago Collegians as the Bensenville quintet fell by a 45-34 score in its debut last Sunday afternoon at Bensenville high school gym.

It was a bad day all around for the 2149ers. The crowd of several hundred fell below expectations and the Reserves were defeated in the curtain-raiser, by the Fifty-Joes, 30-26.

The Collegians were in front all the way and could have run up a higher total, but the powerful negro aggregation elected to entertain the crowd with clever ball handling and a little horse-play.

Individual scoring honors for the afternoon went to Al Johnson of the Collegians with seven baskets for 14 points. Jack Kelly, also of the visitors, was next with five baskets and a charity toss. Laurie Shriver and Bob Knudsen shared honors for the 2149ers with seven points apiece.

Paddock Printers bowlers revive match games

Paddock Printers match game bowling squad has been revived after a four-year lapse due to "you remember what", and the five man team is again on the prowl for matches with fellow-printers of surrounding towns.

Sunday afternoon matches with Barrington, Libertyville, Des Plaines and the Kickapoo Chiefs are history of the pre-war era for the squad. The team includes three league bowlers, the entire group an 800-average five. Printers' squads or employee groups of "regular advertisers only" are welcome to challenge the local keggers.

Outstanding pro ref Globetrotter tilt

Bill Downs, outstanding professional football and basketball referee, will be one of the two referees who will officiate Wednesday, December 4, for the La Londe Realtors-Harlem Globetrotters basketball game at Palatine. Downs is the leading official of the National Professional Football league. He was also head official the past two years at the state high school basketball finals.

Tommy Kouzmanoff, the sports official - sports reporter of the Herald American, will be the other ref on the floor that night. Both Tommy and Downs are officials of the newly formed Basketball Association of America, professional league in which the Chicago Stags are currently operating.

Zion spreadeagles Warren five, 45-16

Unable to penetrate Zion-Benton's air-tight zone defense and at the same time helpless against the unerring marksmanship of rangy Dick Eagle and Don Neave, Coach Verre Gove's Warren Blue Devils never had a chance Friday as Coach Fred Stanton's high powered ZeeBees rolled on to their second straight basketball victory, 45-16, before a capacity crowd in Zion. Zion-Benton's reserves also copied their second victory, 38-5.

So strong was the ZeeBee defense that the Blue Devils were able to slip through for only 9 shots at close range and only two of these found their mark, while three long range shots in 24 attempts found the hoop. T. Nadelhoffer topped the vanquished scoring with five points.

The ZeeBees jumped into an 11-6 advantage at the quarter and were in command of a 20-10 advantage midway. They increased this edge to 31-13 proportions in the third period.

Arlington twins star at tackles at Ohio college

They weren't exactly known as the touchdown twins like the famed Army team boasts, but Marvin and Norman Russell, of Arlington Heights, were important members of the Findlay college football team that made records for the school state and nation this year.

Both tackles, the husky Arlington Heights boys aided the Findlay Oilers in holding enemy eleven to only 95.5 net yards gained per game, a figure believed to be the lowest in the nation. The Oilers, with only 25 points scored against them, are the number one defensive team of Ohio's 37 collegiate eleven.

Findlay, under the tutelage of Nelson M. Jones, also refuses to take a back seat in offensive standings as well. Having rolled up 209 points for themselves, the Oilers rank third in the state in scoring.

With talent too deep in most positions, the Russell twins alternated with another pair of tackles to keep the Oilers line fresh and driving hard. Marv - or maybe Norm - suffered a shoulder injury at the mid-season mark to slow his progress as a freshman griddier while Norm continued on the starting line-up and as a sideline, developed into the Oilers' kick-off artist by the end of the season.

In eight games, Findlay lost only to Mount Union and Defiance colleges. They defeated Wooster 27-0 and then blanked Adrian, Mich. 13-0; Ohio Northern U. 24-0; Ashland 40-0; Bluffton 41-0 and Cedarville 58-0.

Libertyville falls

Flashing a trifle too much point potency up front for their county neighbors, Waukegan's defending Suburban league basketball champions ushered in their 1946-47 campaign last week with an impressive 44 to 29 victory over the Libertyville Wildcats.

The Waukegan club ran up a 7-0 lead before the 'Cats hit the point column, gaining a 14-3 lead at the quarter and a 23-8 halftime advantage.

High point man in the fracas was lanky Brownfield, who pumped seven field goals and three free throws through the meshes for the winners.

Leading scorer for Libertyville was Harry Eiserman, who hit eight points.

The Allenmen outscored Libertyville from the field, 18 goals to 12, but dropped only eight out of 19 free throw attempts. The 'Cats hit five out of 13 from the charity stripe.

In the curtain-raiser, Coach Chuck Reid's sophs shaded Libertyville's lightweights, 23 to 17.

Ray Elliot speaker at Elgin football banquet December 9

Elgin football fans will be able to hear one of the nation's outstanding football coaches December 9 at the Masonic temple when Ray Elliot will be principal speaker at the annual E Booster club football banquet.

Elliot is the man who brought the first official Western conference grid title to Illinois and is to take the Illini to Pasadena for the first Rose Bowl game under the new Big Nine-Pacific Coast conference participation plan.

Men of task force 'Frigid' combine business with pleasure in north

If Pfc. Wallace A. Busse of Des Plaines comes home from his tour of duty with AGF Task Force "Frigid" using the words "Sitzmarks," "gaters," or "track" don't think he has the "Alaska Star" — he is merely using terms that have become familiar to him while in the Northland.

Of the many sports available—skiing, skating, hunting, and skeet shooting, bowling, basketball and various indoor games—the most popular is skiing. The skiing fans, better known as "the torture board addicts," are combining business with pleasure and finding this new sport (new for most of the men) a delightful, tho' not altogether tranquil pastime, for the thrill of sliding down snow-covered slopes is broken for the novice — as well as the experienced skier — by an occasional tumble into a snowdrift. The most hard-earned and important lesson learned to date is to always plan on dodging the other fellow as he doesn't always dodge you.

Task Force "Frigid," commanded by Col. Paul V. Kane of Corvallis, Oregon, will commence its all important testing assignment in November, and the tests are scheduled to continue into the month of March. Some of the things to be determined are: what happens when a man runs fast at minus 30 degrees; can a man stand still for two hours at zero temperature; can he ride in an open vehicle at subzero; and, will a man's face freeze in a 10-mile-per-hour wind at minus 40 degrees.

After the tests are completed and results compiled, many hitherto unknown facts, that could not be pre-determined by laboratory tests, about the reaction of men and equipment when exposed to long periods in the field will be known.

'Ingenuity' is mother of washing machine

"Necessity is the mother of invention." No one knows that better than Sgt. Homer A. Hoover, 23, of Palatine, whose "ingenuity" has produced a super home-made washing machine for the Operations personnel at the 1537th AAFBU on Guam.

Hoover and several of his buddies, tiring of the local laundry situation, recently decided to take matters and tools into their own hands. They set about constructing their own washing machine.

They procured an empty 50-gallon drum at the Guam dump, hauled it up the hill to their barracks and applied a coat of battleship gray. Next came a wooden frame and pulleys and last a small gas engine.

For more than a week the men worked afternoons and evenings on the project. Then the crucial hour approached. The machine was put to test. Once it started the GIs threw aside the "1812 model scrub brushes" and stopped listening to "Rinso White" commercials from the States. They were set.

Sergeant Hoover reports that his machine handles the weekly wash load of three men in as many hours. With only an hour a week for washing, rinsing and drying clothes, at least three guys on Guam can forget "soap pan" hands for the remainder of their stay on the island.

Onion set growers pledge million bushels to exchange

The beginning of a long overdue step in vegetable marketing was taken November 20th in Blue Island when the elected Board of Directors of the newly launched Tri-State Onion Set Exchange declared that 90% of the available sets in the lower Wisconsin, Cook County and Lake County area are contracted for sale through the Exchange and all contracts at the moment became effective.

"A million bushels of onion sets are a lot of onions," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes of Cook County. "Since I began to serve the farmers of this county this industry offered a challenge for price stabilization, and quality improvement for the millions of home gardens over this country where these sets are ultimately used. To a small group of about twenty-five men, with a vision of improving their industry goes the credit of going down the road night and day the past few weeks in bringing this organization into being."

"What will the Onion Set Exchange try to accomplish, how and why? Onion sets are one of those specialized agriculture commodities that fluctuates widely in price,

Much Illinois land needs to be reforested

There's plenty of land in Illinois that needs reforesting, and there's a variety of trees ready for planting next spring, reveals L. B. Culver, forestry extension, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The forester, in referring to the 1947 prospects for forest planting, indicated that there are about 3,000,000 acres in Illinois that should be planted to trees, and most of this land is on farms. Much of the acreage is on eroded hillsides of gullies, and some consists of areas that are low in fertility.

Culver anticipates that about five million trees will be available for planting next spring. At the planting rate of 1,000 trees per acre to obtain a reasonable good stand, it means that the supply will plant about 5,000 acres. "At this rate of planting, he estimates that it would take the next four or five centuries to get all the land forested that needs it within the borders of the state. He was optimistic about the possibility for more nursery trees, saying that before the war the state nursery production was above 10 million trees per year and production appears to be on its way back.

In view of the comparative low inventory of nursery stock for spring planting, the prospective tree planter should contact his county farm adviser now.

No telephone rate increase in 20 years for over 97% of all our customers

The present level of telephone rates was, with few exceptions, established in the early 1920's. For over 97% of our customers there's been no rate increase in 20 years.

Yet, the cost of providing telephone service to you has been climbing higher and higher.

True, we're doing more business than ever before. But expenses have risen faster than income.

Payroll costs alone have more than doubled since 1940. Prices of materials and equipment, needed to maintain your service, have greatly increased.

That explains why Illinois Bell's present rate of earnings is as low as in our worst depression year — and why we have reluctantly decided that we must ask for an adjustment in rates.
